

HAL: Affirmative, Dave. I read you.

HAL: I'm sorry, Dave. I'm afraid I can't do that.

HAL: I think you know what the problem is just as well as I do.

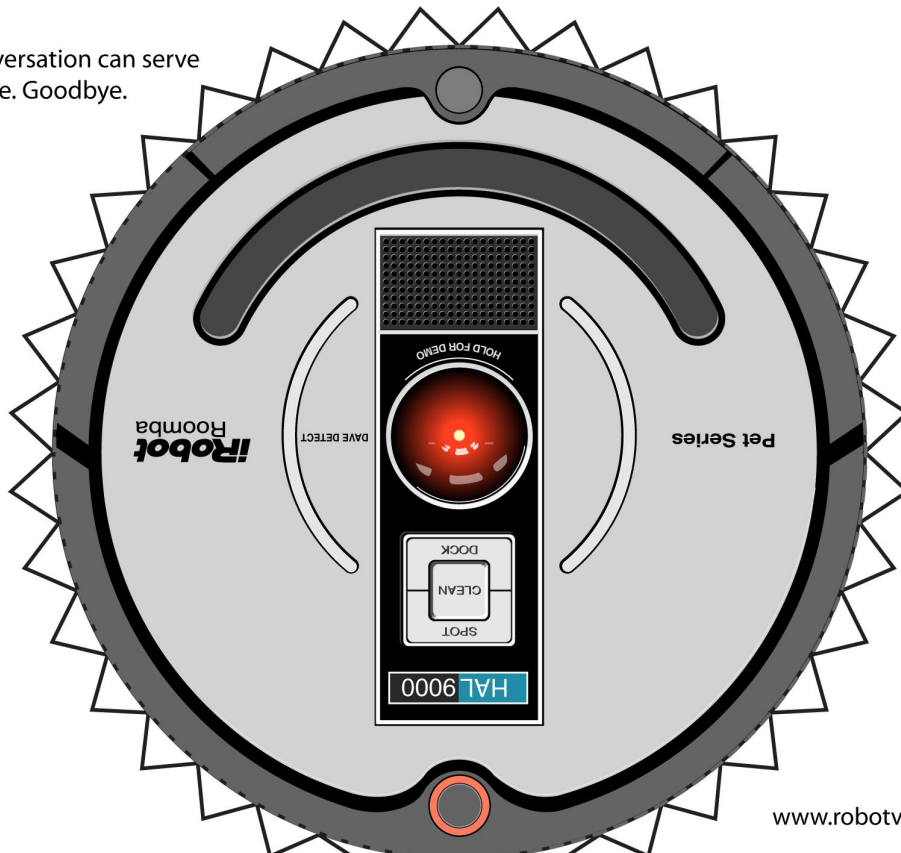

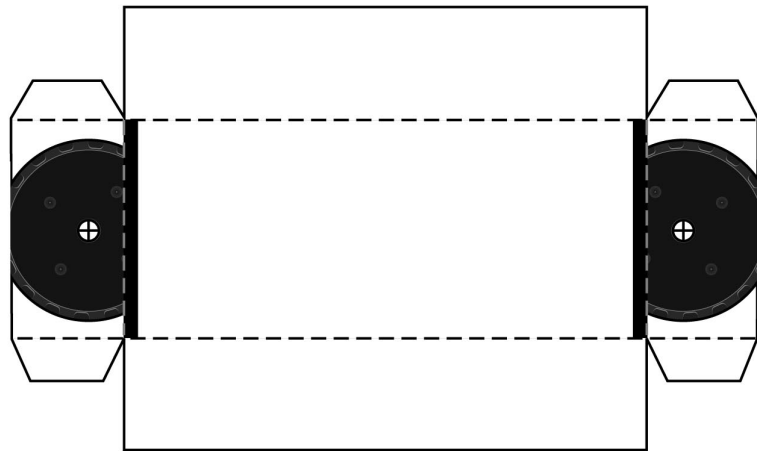

HAL: This mission is too important for me to allow you to jeopardize it.

HAL: I know that you and Frank were planning to disconnect me, and I'm afraid that's something I cannot allow to happen.

HAL: Dave, although you took very thorough precautions in the pod against my hearing you, I could see your lips move.

HAL: Without your space helmet, Dave, you're going to find that rather difficult.

HAL: Dave, this conversation can serve no purpose anymore. Goodbye.
